Subject: [DEC_WaterQualityStandard] 2015-2017 Triennial Review Submission

Every three years, the Alaska Department of Environmental Conservation (ADEC) conducts a comprehensive review of the Water Quality Standards (WQS) in 18 AAC 70. This 'triennial review' helps to keep the pollution limits for Alaska's waters up to date by integrating the latest science, technology, policy, and federal requirements into how the State regulates water quality. ADEC has now completed its 2015-2017 triennial review planning process.

ADEC has published the results of the triennial review public process and Letter of Notification to the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency on the following webpage: <http://dec.alaska.gov/water/wqsar/trireview/index.htm>
